On April 21, 2017 the Corporation entered into a Loan and Security Agreement (the “Term Loan Agreement”) with Maynbridge Capital Inc. (the “Term Lender”) providing for a term loan in the amount of $20.4 million (the “Term Loan”).

On March 28, 2018 Dean Swanberg was released from the Guarantee. All other covenants and collateral under the Renewed Term Loan Agreement remained the same.

On March 27, 2018 Dean Swanberg provided a guarantee in respect of the $13.5 Million Credit Facility limited to the amount of $2,500,000 ( the “Swanberg Guarantee”), in respect of which the Corporation agreed to pay Dean Swanberg a fee equal to 5% per annum of the amount of the Swanberg Guarantee ( the “Swanberg Guarantee Fee”). The Corporation also entered into a Second Warrant Amendment Agreement which amended the exercise price of the previously issued Lender Warrants to $0.20 per share from $0.27 per share and extended the expiry date to January 21, 2021. The Corporation also entered into a Third Warrant Amendment Agreement and into a warrant amendment agreement in respect of the 248,209 Lender Warrants issued on October 1, 2018, which amended the exercise price of all of the previously issued Lender Warrants to $0.145 per share from $0.20 per share and extended the expiry date to January 21, 2022. All covenants and collateral remain the same.

Each Warrant is exercisable to purchase one Common Share at an exercise price of $0.145 per share.

Significant Acquisitions

Zedcor did not complete any “significant acquisitions” (as such term is defined in National Instrument 51-102 Continuous Disclosure Obligations) during the financial year ended December 31, 2018.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BUSINESS OF THE CORPORATION

General

Zedcor is engaged in the rental of oilfield surface equipment, portable oilfield accommodations, and providing security and surveillance services using high resolution cameras affixed on either hybrid solar light towers or stationary infrastructure. The services are provided primarily to the Western Canadian oil and gas industry and construction industry.

Zedcor has a rental fleet which includes approximately 1,275 pieces of varied oilfield equipment. Zedcor’s operating office and primary rental facility is located in Leduc, Alberta and it has a sales office in Calgary, Alberta. Zedcor operates primarily in the Provinces of Alberta, British Columbia and Saskatchewan. Zedcor has employees located in Fort St. John, British Columbia, as well as in Grande Prairie, Leduc and Calgary, Alberta.

Zedcor’s rental fleet includes generators, light towers, light towers with surveillance cameras, rig matting, trash pumps, storage tanks, flare tanks, floc tanks, shale tanks, high wall tanks, and wheeled office trailers. The Corporation also provides three categories of accommodation rental offers namely: Wellsites, DGLs and IWSs. As at December 31, 2019, Zedcor’s fleet consisted of 181 Wellsites, 29 DGLs, and 4 IWSs. The units are put to work on day rates and, generally, revenues fluctuate based on peak utilization in the winter drilling season from December to March.

Wellsites are living and workspace environments for drilling consultants and engineers working on site. Wellsites are designed to work as both office and living quarters and are often moved along with the drilling rig. The purpose of a Wellsite is to allow vital members of the exploration, development or completion process to remain close to the central work site.

DGLs are work environments set up to allow geologists to conduct sampling and core recovery. These labs are external from the Wellsite, which eliminates the threat of toxic fumes and fire hazards within the confines of a living space. These units are highly mobile, provide a small footprint and make for added safety and efficiency for the job they are designed to complete.

IWSs are state of the art modular complexes that combine the efficiency and proximity of individual wellsite units with the communication and synergy advantages of having the vital staff of the project working and living together in one facility.

Specialized Skill and Knowledge

Zedcor recognizes that the key to success in the oilfield rental business is to establish relationships with active customers in its core business areas. The Calgary sales team has created and continues to create relationships that have allowed Zedcor to adapt its rental fleet to better serve the clients' needs. From its field office in Leduc, Alberta, Zedcor is able to provide field sales and timely field service as required.

Zedcor's customers include oil, gas and mineral exploration and production companies, drilling contractors, engineering, procurement, construction and consultancy companies, pipeline constructors, oilfield services companies and a variety of other contractor and subcontractor trades companies. Zedcor's marketing of its rental assets, customer relationship building and community involvement is conducted through in-house sales personnel.

Based on previous experience, Zedcor believes its products are advantageous to its customers based on several factors, including but not limited to:

- Age of equipment;
- Maintenance and cleanliness of equipment;
- Service personnel and response times;
- Availability and selection of equipment;
- Breadth of product offering to suit project requirements;
- Attention and responsiveness to client needs;
- Convenience of delivery and location of equipment;
- Competitive price offering; and
- Relationship and reputation with Zedcor point of contact.

Zedcor's products and services are priced according to each project's duration and requirements and often as short-term day rates.

Day rate contracts are set based on industry factors such as equipment availability, timing of project (summer/winter) and minimum duration guarantees. Zedcor charges higher rates for short-term rentals (less than three months) to account for the additional cost and wear associated with the turnaround of equipment on such a short-term basis and to encourage customers to enter longer term agreements. Accordingly, longer term contracts are offered with lower rates.

Competitive Conditions

The Alberta oilfield equipment rental business is highly competitive. The principal competitors of Zedcor include various public and private corporations. The principal competitive factors within the markets in which Zedcor operates are quality of service, equipment availability, breadth of equipment offering, equipment performance, safety standards and price. The principal barriers to entry in the oilfield equipment rental business are the high capital costs associated with the acquisition of a quality and diversified equipment base, the substantial infrastructure required, the recruitment of qualified personnel and the establishment of personal business contacts.

The Western Canadian market for workspace facility rentals has numerous competitors that include drilling contractors that also rent accommodation equipment, food services providers that rent facilities in conjunction with their primary services and manufacturers who offer both sales and rentals.

Management of Zedcor believes that with its product offering, relationship base, high level of service and innovative focus, it is well positioned to service a wide range of customers.

The ability for Zedcor's existing asset base to maintain or increase revenue is dependent on its ability to keep its units out on rent at the highest rates obtainable from its customers. In order to realize this, Zedcor must maintain a high quality fleet in good condition that is diverse in variety and innovation in order to satisfy the various requirements of its customer base and Zedcor must continue to develop strong, long-term relationships with its customer base through service, consistency and market knowledge.

New Products

Zedcor intends to continue to expand its rental fleet and to offer a wider variety of innovative equipment to its rental customers, subject to available funding. In 2018 Zedcor purchased 63 solar light towers in order to service a growing need for this product line. Zedcor's security and surveillance division began in 2018 with the purchase of 67 solar light towers equipped with high resolution surveillance cameras. During 2019, 15 of the solar towers were converted to solar light towers equipped with high resolution surveillance cameras thereby increasing the size of our fleet of surveillance light towers to 82. These solar light towers with surveillance cameras are being used to provide security and surveillance services for pipeline replacement projects, pipeline construction, commercial construction and rig watch services. Any further growth of the rental fleet will be focused on the latest generation of light towers and any ancillary equipment that may be attached thereto, including surveillance cameras. To date, Zedcor has primarily focused on the oil and gas sector. However, the security and surveillance offering market reach is expanding into oil and gas midstream construction, commercial and residential construction and mining.

Zedcor relies on manufacturers for the supply of newly built equipment for its rental fleet. Zedcor has a strong relationship with a manufacturer that specializes in light towers, allowing Zedcor to procure light towers on a timely basis. The manufacturing segment of the modular facility industry is well structured in Western Canada with three large capacity manufacturers, several mid-sized manufacturers, and numerous small scale suppliers. Zedcor has a strong relationship with its manufacturer, which permits Zedcor to be able to procure production space despite general capacity constraints within the manufacturer.

Cycles

Zedcor operates in the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin, where the activity levels in the oilfield services industry are subject to the ability to move heavy equipment in the oil and natural gas fields. This mobility is dependent on weather conditions. As warm weather returns in the spring, the winter's frost coming up out of the ground renders many secondary roads incapable of supporting the weight of heavy equipment until they have thoroughly dried out ("spring breakup"). In addition, many exploration and production areas in northern Canada are accessible only in the winter months when the ground is frozen hard enough to support heavy equipment ("winter freeze up"). The timing of winter freeze up and spring breakup affects the ability to move equipment in and out of these areas, which directly affects the activities of the exploration and development companies serviced by Zedcor.

Zedcor's primary customer base is in the oil and gas industry in Western Canada. This industry is highly subject to seasonality. Fleet rentals have historically experienced higher activity and demand in the winter months. This is due to the increase in exploration and infrastructure construction at remote northern sites where access is restricted during warmer months due to muskeg and wildlife conservation efforts.

Environmental Protection

The Canadian oil and gas industry is regulated by a number of federal and provincial governmental bodies and agencies under a variety of complex federal and provincial legislation that sets forth numerous prohibitions and requirements with respect to planning and approval processes related to land use, sustainable resource management, waste management, responsibility for the release of presumed hazardous materials, protection of wildlife and the environment and the health and safety of workers. Legislation provides for the restrictions and prohibitions on the transport of dangerous goods and the release or emission of various substances, including substances used and produced in association with certain oil and gas industry operations. The legislation addresses various permits, drilling, access road constructions, camp construction, well completion, installation of surface equipment, air monitoring, surface and ground water monitoring in connection with these activities, waste management and access to remote or environmentally sensitive areas.

The operations of Zedcor are subject to a variety of federal, provincial, and local laws, regulations, and guidelines, including laws and regulations relating to health and safety, the conduct of operations, the protection of the environment, the operation of equipment used in its operations and the transportation of materials and equipment Zedcor provides for its clients. Zedcor invests financial and managerial resources to ensure compliance with all applicable laws and regulations and will continue to do so in the future. Although such expenditures historically have not been material to Zedcor, such laws or regulations are subject to change. Accordingly, it is impossible for Zedcor to predict cost or impact of such laws and regulations on its future operations.

Employees

Zedcor and its 100% owned subsidiary Zedcor Energy Services Corp., currently employ 43 people on a full-time basis. Of these, four people are employed directly by Zedcor on a full-time basis, and Zedcor Energy Services Corp. employs 39 people on a full-time basis. The personnel employed by Zedcor and Zedcor Energy Services Corp. represent an experienced and qualified workforce including several senior staff members with considerable background in the oilfield equipment rental business, security and surveillance, and many long service employees.

Risk Factors

The following information is a summary only of certain risk factors relating to the Corporation and should be read in conjunction with the detailed information appearing elsewhere in this Annual Information Form. Prospective investors should carefully consider the risk factors set out below and consider all other information contained in this Annual Information Form and in the Corporation's other public filings before making an investment decision. The risks set out below are not an exhaustive list, nor should be taken as a complete summary or description of all the risks associated with the Corporation's business and the oilfield surface equipment rental and portable oilfield accommodations rental business generally.

Impact of Economic Cycle and Commodity Prices

The Company's equipment rental customers consist of companies operating primarily in the construction and oil and gas industries which are all affected by trends in the general economic conditions within their respective markets. Changes in the price of oil, interest rates, commodity prices, exchange rates, availability of capital, general economic prospects and adverse weather conditions may all impact their businesses by affecting levels of consumer, corporate and government spending. The Company's business and financial performance is largely affected by the impact of such business cycle factors on its customer base.

Disease Outbreaks and Pandemics

On January 30, 2020, the World Health Organization declared the COVID-19 outbreak a Public Health Emergency of International Concern, and on March 11, 2020, characterized COVID-19 as a pandemic. A local, regional, national or international outbreak of a contagious disease, such as COVID-19 or other similar illnesses, could result in: a significant decline in economic activity in the regions the Corporation holds assets and conducts business in, a decrease in individuals willing to travel, imposed mobility restrictions or other quarantine measures through government regulations, and business interruptions due to outbreaks or required quarantines in one or more of the Corporation's facilities. An outbreak in one or more of the Corporation's facilities may, if uncontrolled, result in temporary shortages of staff to the extent the Corporation's work force is impacted. While the effects of this outbreak are anticipated to be temporary, the duration and magnitude of potential business disruptions is currently unknown and may have a material adverse effect on the financial condition and financial results of the Corporation.

Competition

Competition in the oilfield rental and construction industry is intense and growing. Zedcor Energy Inc. competes with national and international companies that have substantially greater personnel and financial resources, as well as better name recognition and larger customer bases. Also, given the potential size of the market, it is foreseeable that new competition with greater resources will be entering the marketplace on an on-going basis.

No Long Term Rental Contracts

The business operations of Zedcor depend on successful execution of performance based contracts. The key factors which determine whether a client continues to use Zedcor are service quality and availability, reliability and performance of equipment used to perform its services, technical knowledge and experience, safety and competitive price. There can be no assurance that Zedcor's relationships with its customers will continue.

Dependence on Major Customers

Zedcor generates approximately 68% of its revenue from its top ten customers, and there can be no assurance that the current customers will continue their relationships with Zedcor. The loss of one or more major customers, or any significant decrease in services provided to a customer, prices paid or any other changes to the terms of service with customers, could have a material adverse effect on the financial results, cash flows, and the overall financial condition of Zedcor and Zedcor Corp.

Reliance upon Management

Executive management and other key personnel are essential to Zedcor's business. The loss of the services of any of these persons could have an adverse effect on the business. Zedcor's ability to develop its products and deliver services could be harmed if it is not able to recruit and retain qualified personnel. In order to address this risk, the Corporation is proactive in its human resource management and works to provide an attractive workplace environment for all employees.

Dependence on Suppliers

Failure of suppliers to deliver equipment in a timely and efficient manner could be detrimental to Zedcor's ability to keep customers and to expand. No assurances can be given that the Corporation will be successful in maintaining its required supply of equipment.

Safety

The services provided by the Corporation involve a number of hazards and risks on well-sites. To address these risks, the Corporation has developed and implemented safety and training programs. In addition, a comprehensive insurance and risk management program has been established to protect the Corporation's assets and operations.

Economic and Political Conditions

Changes in economic conditions, including, without limitation, recessionary or inflationary trends, commodity prices, equity market levels or strength, consumer credit availability, interest rates, consumers' disposable income and spending levels, job security and unemployment, and overall consumer confidence could have a material adverse effect on Zedcor's business, financial condition, results of operations or cash flows. In addition, economic and business conditions in Zedcor's markets may be affected by disruptions in the financial markets caused by political or other events and such affects may adversely impact Zedcor's business, financial condition, and results of operations or cash flows.

Many of Zedcor's customers have curtailed their capital spending due to macro-economic conditions and may experience difficulty in paying for services purchased. By allowing Zedcor to adapt to changing market conditions, exposure to such risk may be lessened. This has and will continue to be achieved by cost management strategies and expansion into other complementary sectors, such as security and surveillance, through new targeted marketing strategies.

Capital Markets

The Corporation, along with local, national and international companies with which it competes, has restricted access to capital, bank debt and equity. As such, the Corporation is dependent upon the lending capacity of many financial institutions which fluctuates depending on broad market conditions. As future capital expenditures will be financed out of funds generated from operations, borrowings and possible future equity sales, the Corporation's ability to do so is dependent on, among other factors, the overall state of capital markets and investor appetite for investments in the rental industry and the Corporation's securities in particular.

To the extent that external sources of capital become limited, unavailable or available on onerous terms, the Corporation's ability to make capital investments and maintain existing assets may be impaired, such that its assets, liabilities, business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected as a result.

Future Capital Requirements

Zedcor may require additional financing in order to grow and expand its operations. It is possible that required future financing will not be available or, if available, will not be available on favourable terms. If Zedcor issues Common Shares or other securities, including convertible securities, to finance its operations or expansion plans, shareholders may suffer dilution of their investment. If adequate funds are not available, or are not available on acceptable terms, the Corporation may not be able to take advantage of opportunities, or otherwise optimally respond to competitive pressures.

Access to Credit Markets

Due to the nature of the Corporation's business it is necessary from time to time for the Corporation to access other sources of capital beyond its internally generated cash flow in order to fund the development and acquisition of its long term asset base. As part of this strategy, the Corporation obtains some of the necessary capital by incurring debt and therefore the Corporation is dependent to a certain extent on continued availability of the credit markets. The continued availability of the credit markets for Zedcor is primarily dependent on the state of the economy and the health of the banking industry in North America and abroad. There is risk that if the global economy and banking industry experience unexpected and/or prolonged deterioration, then Zedcor's access to credit markets may contract or disappear altogether. The Corporation tries to mitigate this risk by dealing with reputable lenders and tries to structure its lending agreements to give it the most flexibility possible should these situations arise. However, the situations that may give rise to credit markets tightening or disappearing are beyond Zedcor's control.

Zedcor is also dependent to a certain extent on continued access to equity capital markets. The Corporation is listed on the TSXV and maintains an active investor relations program. Continued access to capital is dependent on Zedcor's ability to continue to perform at a level that meets market expectations.

Successfully Managing its Growth

Zedcor's growth strategy will continue to place significant demands on its financial, operational and management resources. In order to continue its growth, Zedcor may need to add administrative, management and other personnel, and make additional investments in operations and systems. Zedcor cannot provide assurance that it will be able to find and train qualified personnel, or do so on a timely basis, or expand its operations and systems.

Adequacy of Insurance Coverage

Zedcor seeks to obtain and maintain, at all times, insurance coverage in respect of its potential liabilities and the accidental loss of value of its assets from risks, in those amounts, with those insurers, and on those terms it considers appropriate, taking into account all relevant factors, including the practices of owners of similar assets and operations. However, not all risks are covered by insurance, and Zedcor cannot provide assurance that insurance will be available consistently or on an economically feasible basis or that the amounts of insurance will be sufficient to cover losses or claims that may occur involving its assets or operations.

Volatility of Market Price

The market price of the Common Shares could be subject to significant fluctuation in response to variations in quarterly and yearly operating results, the success of Zedcor's business strategy and other factors. In addition, the stock market experiences price and volume fluctuations that have often been unrelated or disproportionate to the operating performance of affected issuers. These fluctuations may adversely affect the market price of the Common Shares.

Uncertain Operating Conditions

The Corporation's financial results will be affected by a number of factors. The primary factors affecting Zedcor's operating results are changes in oil and gas prices, technology, equipment costs, labour costs, overhead costs and quantity of customer orders. In addition to this, other factors having an impact on results are competition; asset and capacity management; customer service effectiveness; and overall industry economic conditions. Variability of results can be caused by any one or any combination of these factors.

Zedcor's Operations are Geographically Concentrated and Susceptible to Local Economies, Regulations and Seasonal Fluctuations.

Zedcor's business operations are carried out primarily in the Provinces of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan and are susceptible to those markets' local economy, regulations and seasonal fluctuations. Seasonality may temporarily affect Zedcor's revenues and expenses. In general, the level of activity in the Canadian oilfield service industry is influenced by seasonal weather patterns. Wet weather and the spring thaw make the ground unstable. Consequently, municipalities and provincial transportation departments enforce road bans that restrict the movement of rigs and other heavy equipment, thereby reducing activity at all levels of the oil and gas industry. Additionally, certain oil and gas producing areas are located in areas that are inaccessible other than during the winter months, because the ground surrounding the drilling sites in these areas consists of swampy terrain. Seasonal factors and unexpected weather patterns may lead to declines in the activity levels of exploration, development and production companies and corresponding declines in the demand for goods and services of Zedcor.

Potential Replacement of or Reduced Use of Products and Services

Certain rental equipment of the Corporation may become obsolete or experience a decrease in demand through the introduction of competing products or new technologies that are lower in cost, exhibit enhanced performance characteristics or are determined by the market to be more preferable for a variety of reasons. The changes could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's business, financial condition, results or operations and cash flows. Although the Corporation makes reasonable efforts to keep current with the changing market for oil and gas equipment rental services and technological and regulatory changes, there can be no assurance that the Corporation will be able to identify all changes to competing products and technology.

Failure of suppliers to deliver equipment in a timely and efficient manner could be detrimental to Zedcor's ability to keep customers and to expand. No assurances can be given that the Corporation will be successful in maintaining its required supply of equipment.

Environmental Requirements

Zedcor could be subject to legal action relating to compliance with environmental laws or regulations, and to civil claims from parties alleging some harm as a consequence of contamination, odours and other releases to the environment or other environmental matters (including the acts or omissions of its predecessors) for which Zedcor may be responsible.

In general, environmental, health and safety laws authorize federal, provincial or local environmental regulatory agencies (and in some cases, private citizens) to bring administrative or judicial actions for violations of environmental laws or to revoke or deny the renewal of a permit. Potential penalties for such violations may include, among other things, civil and criminal monetary penalties, imprisonment, permit suspension or revocation, and injunctive relief. These agencies may also attempt to revoke or deny renewal of Zedcor's permits or licenses for violations or alleged violations of environmental, health and safety laws or regulations. Under certain circumstances, citizens are also authorized to file lawsuits to compel compliance with environmental laws, regulations or permits under which Zedcor operates and to impose monetary penalties. Surrounding landowners or community groups may also assert claims alleging environmental damage, personal injury or property damage in connection with Zedcor's operations.

Potential changes in requirements may result in increased operating costs and capital expenditures for oil and gas companies, thereby delaying or decreasing the demand for Zedcor's services.

Management is unable to predict the impact of potential emissions targets and it is possible that changes could adversely affect Zedcor's business, financial condition and results of operations. These regulations would likely result in higher operating costs for our customers in the region, putting further pressure on project economics, and may also impair the Corporation's ability to provide its services economically.

Conflicts of Interest

The directors of Zedcor may be or become engaged in different industries, both on their own behalf and on behalf of other corporations, and situations may arise where the directors and officers may be in direct competition with the Corporation. Conflicts of interest, if any, which arise will be subject to and governed by the procedures prescribed by the ABCA.

Climate Change Regulations

Climate change policy is evolving at regional, national and international levels, and political and economic events may significantly affect the scope and timing of climate change measures that are ultimately put in place. The federal and certain provincial governments have implemented legislation aimed at incentivizing the use of alternative fuels and in turn reducing carbon emissions. The taxes placed on carbon emissions may have the effect of decreasing the demand for oil and natural gas products and at the same time, increasing the Corporation's operating expenses, each of which may have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's profitability and financial condition. Further, the imposition of carbon taxes puts the Corporation at a disadvantage with the Corporation's competitors who operate in jurisdictions where there are less costly carbon regulations. The adoption of such laws and regulations and the imposition of fees, taxes or other costs, could adversely affect oil and gas drilling activities which in turn could negatively impact Zedcor's business due to a reduction in demand for rental equipment. In addition to climate policy risk, the oil and gas industry faces physical risks attributable to a changing climate. Climate change is expected to increase the frequency of severe weather conditions, including high winds, heavy rainfall, extreme temperatures, flooding and wildfires, which may result in disruptions in operations or transportation interruptions which may lead to increased expenditures or reduced revenues for Zedcor.

Technology Risk

Zedcor's ability to meet customer demands in respect of performance and cost will depend upon continuous improvements in services, and there can be no assurance that Zedcor will be successful in this regard or that Zedcor will have resources available to meet this continuing demand. Failure to meet this demand could have a material adverse effect on Zedcor's business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. No assurances can be given that Zedcor's competitors will not achieve technological advantages.

Dilution

The Corporation may make future acquisitions or enter into financings or other transactions involving the issuance of securities of the Corporation which may be dilutive.

Litigation

In the normal course of the Corporation's operations, it may become involved in, named as party to, or be the subject of, various legal proceedings, tax proceedings, and legal actions, related to personal injuries, property damage, property tax, land rights, the environment and contract disputes. The outcome of outstanding, pending or future proceedings cannot be predicted with certainty and may be determined adversely to the Corporation and as a result, could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's assets, liabilities, business, financial condition and results of operations.

Breach of Confidentiality

While discussing potential business relationships or other transactions with third parties, the Corporation may disclose confidential information relating to the business, operations or affairs of the Corporation. Although confidentiality agreements are signed by third parties prior to the disclosure of any confidential information, a breach could put the Corporation at competitive risk and may cause significant damage to its business. The harm to the Corporation's business from a breach of confidentiality cannot presently be quantified, but may be material and may not be compensable in damages. There is no assurance that, in the event of a breach of confidentiality, the Corporation will be able to obtain equitable remedies, such as injunctive relief, from a court of competent jurisdiction in a timely manner, if at all, in order to prevent or mitigate any damages to its business that such a breach of confidentiality may cause.

Impact of Future Financings on Market Price

In order to finance future operations or acquisitions opportunities, the Corporation may raise funds through the issuance of Common Shares or the issuance of debt instruments or securities convertible into Common Shares. The Corporation cannot predict the size of future issuances of Common Shares or the issuance of debt instruments or other securities convertible into Common Shares or the effect, if any, that future issuances and sales of the Corporation's securities will have on the market price of the Common Shares.

Credit Facility Risk

The Corporation is required to comply with the covenants and other terms and conditions of the Second Amended and Restated Term Loan Agreement and with the terms and conditions of the Amended and Restated Loan Agreement. A breach by the Corporation of its obligations under either of the foregoing agreements or any circumstances reducing the funds available to the Corporation thereunder, could result in the requirement to repay a portion or all of the Corporation's indebtedness thereunder.

Internal Controls

Effective internal controls are necessary for Zedcor to provide reliable financial reports and to help prevent fraud. Although Zedcor will undertake a number of procedures in order to help ensure the reliability of its financial reports, including those imposed on it under Canadian securities laws, Zedcor cannot be certain that such measures will ensure that Zedcor will maintain adequate control over financial processes and reporting.

Failure to implement required new or improved controls, or difficulties encountered in their implementation, could harm Zedcor's results of operations or cause it to fail to meet its reporting obligations. If Zedcor or its independent auditors discover a material weakness, the disclosure of that fact, even if quickly remedied, could reduce the market's confidence in Zedcor financial statements and harm the trading price of the Common Shares.

Information Technology Systems and Cyber-Security

The Corporation relies heavily on information technology, such as computer hardware and software systems, in order to properly operate its business. In the event the Corporation is unable to regularly deploy software and hardware, effectively upgrade systems and network infrastructure, and take other steps to maintain or improve the efficiency and efficacy of systems, the operation of such systems could be interrupted or result in the loss, corruption, or release of data, compromise confidential customer or employee information, result in the disruption of business, theft or extortion of funds, regulatory infractions, loss of competitive advantage and reputational damage. In addition, information systems could be damaged or interrupted by natural disasters, force majeure events, telecommunications failures, power loss, acts of war or terrorism, computer viruses, malicious code, physical or electronic security breaches, intentional or inadvertent user misuse or error, or similar events or disruptions. Any of these or other events could cause interruptions, delays, loss of critical and/or sensitive data or similar effects, which could have a material adverse impact on the protection of intellectual property, and confidential and proprietary information, and on the Corporation's business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

In the ordinary course of business, the Corporation collects, uses and stores sensitive data, including intellectual property, proprietary business information and personal information of the Corporation's employees and third parties. Despite the Corporation's security measures, its information systems, technology and infrastructure may be vulnerable to attacks by hackers and/or cyberterrorists or breaches due to employee error, malfeasance or other disruptions. Any such breach could compromise information used or stored on the Corporation's systems and/or networks and, as a result, the information could be accessed, publicly disclosed, lost or stolen.

To date the Corporation has not experienced any material losses relating to cyber-attacks or other information security breaches. However, there can be no assurance that the Corporation will not incur such losses in the future. Any such access, disclosure or other loss of information could result in legal claims or proceedings, liability under laws that protect the privacy of personal information, regulatory penalties or other negative consequences, including disruption to the Corporation's operations and damage to its reputation, which could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Although the Corporation maintains a risk management program, which includes an insurance component that may provide coverage for the operational impacts from an attack to, or breach of, Zedcor's information technology and infrastructure, including process control systems, the Corporation does not maintain stand-alone cyber insurance. Furthermore, not all cyber risks are insurable. As a result, Zedcor's existing insurance may not provide adequate coverage for losses stemming from a cyber-attack to, or breach of, its information technology and infrastructure.

Forward-Looking Statements may Prove Inaccurate

Undue reliance should not be placed on forward-looking statements. By their nature, forward-looking statements involve numerous assumptions, known and unknown risks and uncertainties, of both a general and specific nature, that could cause actual results to differ materially from those suggested by the forward-looking statements or contribute to the possibility that predictions, forecasts or projections will prove to be materially inaccurate. Additional information on the risks, assumptions and uncertainties are found in this Annual Information Form under the heading "Forward-Looking Statements".

On February 2, 2016 Zedcor announced that the board of directors of the Corporation (the "Board") suspended the Corporation's quarterly dividend until further notice. Under the Third Amended and Restated Term Loan Agreement, Zedcor shall not, without the prior written consent of the Term Lender, declare or pay any dividends. The amount of cash dividends to be paid on the Common Shares, if any, in addition to the foregoing consent requirement, is also subject to the discretion of the Board and will depend upon, among other things, cash flow from operations generated by Zedcor, financial requirements for Zedcor's operations and the execution of its growth strategy, fluctuations in working capital, the timing and amount of capital expenditures, debt service requirements and covenants, the terms and conditions of the Third Amended and Restated Term Loan Agreement, statutory liquidity requirements under the ABCA and other factors beyond the control of Zedcor. Accordingly, there can be no guarantee that Zedcor will resume the payment of dividends.
